Birthdays

At the end of January we celebrated those members whose birthdays are in January; Brenda Cooper, David Klooz, Berkley Lambert, Ray Pettit and Paul Rogers: and those members whose birthdays are in May; Jim Cooper, Diane Harry, Rory MacCon, Pauline Meyler, Heather Quick, Elly Warren, and Mary Watson.

Tea

Thank you to Heather Pettit and Joan Klooz for getting the cake and draw prizes and setting up for the tea and collecting the money. Thanks also to Mary McHoull for her help in the serving and to all who helped with the clean up. Following the tea and cake, President Paul McHoull presented the three prizes for the winners of the draw.

Finally

During a lull between the speeches at the recent presidential swearing-in ceremony, Melania Trump leaned over to chat with the Secretary of State, Rex Tillerson. "Ya know, I bought Donald a parrot for Christmas. That bird is so smart, Donald has already taught him to pronounce over two hundred words!" "Wow, that's pretty impressive," said Tillerson, "but, you do realize that he just speaks the words, ...he doesn't really understand what they mean." "Oh, I know," Melania replied, "Neither does the parrot."

An elderly couple were walking about the streets of their home, Moscow. They each feel drops of moisture on their faces. The man says that it is snowing, but his wife is convinced that it's raining. Finally, they see General Rudolph walking by, and the woman calls him over to settle the dispute. The general says it's definitely rain. The man doesn't believe him. Sighing, his wife tells him, "Rudolph the Red knows rain, dear."

Two men were walking through the desert. They were nearly out of water when they saw three tents in the distance. They hurried over to see if they could get some water. In the first tent they were told, "I'm sorry we only have trifle." In the second tent, again, "I'm sorry we only have trifle." They went into the third tent and again asked for water only to be told, "I'm sorry we only sell trifle." As they walked on, one turned to the other and said, "That was a trifle bazaar."

A man with a cucumber in his ear, a carrot in his nose, and a tomato in his eye walks into the doctor's office. He says, "Doc, I'm not feeling well. What's wrong with me?" The doctor says, "First of all, you're not eating right...."
